

In 1961, Mr. Marsh became the first African American to be elected to the Saginaw City Council, and in 1967, became Saginaw's first Black mayor. Shortly after becoming mayor, he formed a 220-member Committee on Civil Rights, made up of homemakers, factory workers, ministers, business owners and members of civil rights organizations, that sought to bring the city together to solve the many issues the city faced at the time. Reflecting on his stint as mayor, he was quoted in the Saginaw News in a 2000 interview as saying that the commission was "the most important thing I ever did. We discussed the legitimate concerns of this city."

Henry Marsh was a devoted husband and family man. He was married to his wife Ruth for 63 years, and they were blessed with three children, Michael, Walter and Teresa.

This is, indeed, a great loss to the many people who knew Henry Marsh and to the many more that have benefited from his life's work. I know my colleagues join me in paying tribute to the life and work of Henry G. Marsh. I am sure his family takes comfort in knowing that his accomplishments will be honored and remembered for years to come.●

TRIBUTE TO LIEUTENANT GENERAL ROBERT E. DURBIN

● Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to an exceptional officer in the U.S. Army. LTG Robert E. Durbin will retire on August 1 after more than 36 years of distinguished service to the Army and the Nation.

Throughout his career, General Durbin has personified the Army values of duty, integrity, and selfless service across the many missions to which he has contributed.

General Durbin, a resident of Pennsylvania, graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1975 and then went on to receive a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Pennsylvania State University.

He has served in a variety of command and staff assignments, leading men and women during times of peace and war. Over the course of almost four decades of service, he has commanded at the platoon, company, battalion, and brigade levels.

Furthermore, he served as the commanding general of the Combined Security Transition Command—Afghanistan, the command that plays such a critical role in training the Afghan National Security Forces. He subsequently became the commanding general of the 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley.

General Durbin has spent the last 3 years serving as the director of the Army's Office of Business Transformation, where he was responsible for leading the Army's efforts to operate more cost-consciously while still providing the best trained and equipped force. During one of the most challenging economic periods in our history, General Durbin has helped foster and institutionalize better business practices among our Army's senior leaders. His personal efforts were instrumental in leading the Army through significant changes in the way it grows, resets, modernizes, and transforms. He made these processes more relevant to current operational requirements and significantly increased the Army's capability to support combatant commanders.

In all of his assignments, General Durbin has provided outstanding leadership, integrity, and sound advice on numerous issues of importance to the Army and our nation.

I would like to thank General Durbin, his wife Diana, and his entire family for their commitment, sacrifices, and service to our nation. Congratulations and best wishes.●

TRIBUTE TO JOHN CALLOVI

● Mr. RUBIO. Mr. President, today I recognize John Callovi, a summer intern in my Washington, DC, office for all of the hard work he has done for me, my staff, and the people of the State of Florida.

John is a graduate of Wellington High School in Wellington, FL. Currently, he is a rising senior pursuing a major in economics at the University of Florida. He is a dedicated and diligent worker who has been devoted to getting the most out of his internship experience.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to John for all the fine work he has done and wish him continued success in the years to come.●

TRIBUTE TO STEPHEN CASSCELLS-HAMBY

● Mr. RUBIO. Mr. President, today I recognize Stephen Casscells-Hamby, a summer intern in my Washington, DC, office for all of the hard work he has done for me, my staff, and the people of the State of Florida.

Stephen is a graduate of Trinity Preparatory School in Winter Park, FL. Currently, he is a rising junior pursuing a double major in business and economics at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He is a dedicated and diligent worker who has been devoted to getting the most out of his internship experience.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Stephen for all the fine work he has done and wish him continued success in the years to come.●

TRIBUTE TO JOSHUA FORDIN

● Mr. RUBIO. Mr. President, today I recognize Joshua Fordin, a summer intern in my Washington, DC, office for all of the hard work he has done for me, my staff, and the people of the State of Florida.

Joshua is a graduate of Pine Crest School in Fort Lauderdale, FL. Currently, he is a rising senior pursuing a major in international relations at Johns Hopkins University. He is a dedicated and diligent worker who has been devoted to getting the most out of his internship experience.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Joshua for all the fine work he has done and wish him continued success in the years to come.●

TRIBUTE TO CRISTINA HACKLEY

● Mr. RUBIO. Mr. President, today I recognize Cristina Hackley, a summer intern in my Washington, DC, office for all of the hard work she has done for me, my staff, and the people of the State of Florida.

Cristina is a graduate of Groton School in Groton, MA. Currently, she is a rising sophomore at the School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University. She is a dedicated and diligent worker who has been devoted to getting the most out of her internship experience.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Cristina for all the fine work she has done and wish her continued success in the years to come.●

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES KLUG

● Mr. RUBIO. Mr. President, today I recognize Charles Klug, a summer intern in my Washington, DC, office for all of the hard work he has done for me, my staff, and the people of the State of Florida.

Charles is a graduate of Berkeley Preparatory School in Tampa, FL. Currently, he is a rising senior pursuing a double major in political science and religion at Wake Forest University. He is a dedicated and diligent worker who has been devoted to getting the most out of his internship experience.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Charles for all the fine work he has done and wish him continued success in the years to come.●

TRIBUTE TO MAGGIE MARTINEZ

● Mr. RUBIO. Mr. President, today I recognize Maggie Martinez, a summer intern in my Washington, DC, office for all of the hard work she has done for me, my staff, and the people of the State of Florida.

Maggie is a graduate of Lake Highland Preparatory School in Orlando, FL. Currently, she is a rising senior double majoring in art history and English at Vanderbilt University. She is a dedicated and diligent worker who has been devoted to getting the most out of her internship experience.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to Christina for all the fine work she has done and